About Us

We are a dedicated team with our own migration stories, supporting people from abroad in France – property owners and newcomers alike. Beate, from Vienna and holding a Master's in Science, moved to the South of France in 2012 after extensive international experience. Isabel, originally from Germany, has lived in France for more than 15 years, from her work as a journalist in Paris to a life in the South. Our languages and personal experience help us understand our clients and guide them through language barriers and complex administration.

"Thanks to their fluency in French and other European languages, they effectively bridge any language gaps, making it a hassle-free experience. With Ma Maison Provençale, you truly gain a trusted partner."

Lena L. · Property owner in the South of France

We know from our own experience how much time and energy French administration can take. Let us handle it for you – so that you can enjoy your life in France. We look forward to hearing from you!
